REPORTS

President Nguyen welcomed back Senator Caballero.

During the meeting, participants reviewed policies related to service animals and sex offenders. He also noted that funding items approved by the ICC would be reviewed during the current meeting.

Alex Guriba provided updates on the upcoming Half Moon Bay Pumpkin Festival, scheduled for the weekend. College representatives, including the college recruiter and student ambassadors, will staff a table, and the college will participate in the parade with a float. Volunteers were invited to help prepare the float early Saturday morning or participate in the parade. The college was also selected as one of 17 California community colleges participating in a statewide strategic enrollment management initiative focused on improving services and enrollment efforts at the Coastside Center. A college-wide strategic enrollment management group is being developed, and student representatives were encouraged to participate. Additionally, a student housing workshop was held with approximately 42 attendees participating in person and online. A follow-up discussion with student representatives is planned for November.

Student Life and Leadership Manager Schaefer announced that a new refrigerator for the Senate office had been ordered and was expected to arrive the following Monday. Senators were reminded to lock both office doors when leaving for the day to help protect equipment and personal belongings.

Student Life and Leadership Assistant Hamadeh reminded groups who use this meeting room (17-146) to log out of Zoom after meetings and clean up papers and other materials, so the room remains ready for other campus groups.
